

Organic Licorice Extract Powder

What is Organic Licorice Extract Powder?

Organic Licorice Extract Powder is derived from the root of the Glycyrrhiza glabra plant, known for its distinctive sweet flavor and numerous health benefits. Licorice has been used for centuries in traditional medicine, particularly in Chinese herbal remedies, for its ability to support respiratory health, digestive function, and overall wellness. This concentrated extract is rich in glycyrrhizin, flavonoids, and saponins, making it an excellent addition to supplements, functional foods, and herbal formulations.

Production Process:

- Sourcing: We use organically grown Licorice roots, free from pesticides, herbicides, and chemical fertilizers.
- Harvesting: The roots are harvested at their optimal growth stage to ensure the highest levels of bioactive compounds.
- Extraction: A water or alcohol-based extraction method is used to concentrate the active ingredients, including glycyrrhizin, flavonoids, and other key phytochemicals.
- Concentration & Drying: The liquid extract is concentrated and spray-dried into a fine powder to preserve its active properties and ensure easy incorporation into various applications.
- Quality Control: Each batch is rigorously tested for potency, purity, and safety, ensuring it meets the highest industry standards.

Key Features:
