

Organic White Willow Bark Extract Powder

Organic white willow bark extract is extracted from the bark of the white willow by the organic method. The white willow tree is found in Asia and certain parts of Europe. White willow bark extract has been used medicinally for hundreds of years. White Willow Bark Extract contains salicin, which the body converts to salicylic acid and has the same effect on the body as aspirin without any of the side effects. In fact, White Willow Bark Extract was the basis for the synthesis of aspirin. History of usage of White Willow Bark goes back as far as 500 BC when ancient Chinese healers began using it to control pain. Native Americans also discovered the value of the Willow tree for relieving pain from headaches and rheumatism and reducing fevers.
